CLOS HIRISSOU

It has been three centuries since the Hirissou family utilized its vines. Since 2002, Nicolas Hirissou has led the domain with the conviction that he can make great wines in Gaillac.

After studying viticulture and oenology and having worked in California, Nicolas Hirissou took over the family estate.

My greatest luck is to have always had a free map to draw the future of my domain. For 15 years I have been modeling, trying, succeeding, failing, with one goal: to make a great wine.

My family and my two passions help me in this adventure. Falconry (traditionally passed down from father to son for generations, proudly showcases the glove and eagle on the label, symbolizing their deep-rooted family tradition) and Corsica are my two sources of inspiration: The search for polyphonic wine...
