Tasting notes

The former hunting grounds of Saint-Louis de France, the terroir of Chateau Saint-Louis is made up of rounded galet stones which allow maturation conditions similar to the greatest Cru in the Rhone Valley. The color is pale pink with a fuchsia hue. The nose is complex, with aromas of wild strawberry, cherry, and raspberry. The palate is generous and harmonious, enlivened by ripe and persistent notes of raspberry.

Enjoy chilled over the next 2 years with all your summer meals or by itself with good friends.
